

GERRY BERTIER #42® FOUNDATION

Gerry Bertier is recognized as one of Alexandria's 100 Greatest Athletes. He was a leader on perhaps the best football team in Virginia high school history, the 1971 T.C. Williams Titans. Gerry was Alexandria's first high school All-American and "probably the best linebacker in the country at the time," according to head coach Herman Boone.

Gerry suffered a spinal cord injury following that season and thereafter used his leadership and advocacy skills to make the world more accessible for people with disabilities. Tragically, Gerry died in 1981 when his car was struck by a drunk driver. The popular Disney movie "Remember the Titans" memorialized him and his teammates.

The Spinal Cord Injury (SCI) Rehabilitation and Research Center at Virginia Commonwealth University Health System (VCUHS) provides comprehensive state-of-the-art care with a commitment to improve hope, function and quality of life. VCUHS is the only Level I trauma center in central Virginia and one of just 20 institutions nationwide to have had federal designation as a Model Systems for SCI Care.

The goal of the national SCI research program at VCUHS is to pursue medical and therapeutic advancements in care and outcomes for individuals with SCI. The program actively participates in collaborative projects sponsored by the National SCI Model Systems and provides leadership in national dissemination and education.

Celebrating our 10th year supporting spinal cord injury research

The 10th Annual GERRY BERTIER #42® FOUNDATION tournament will donate the proceeds generated by the June 26th event to the VCU Spinal Cord Injury Medicine Center to further research.

The tournament offers the opportunity for companies and individuals to support the efforts of this foundation through one of our many tournament sponsorships or by donating items that will be raffled or auctioned at the event. Examples of these items include, but are not limited to, restaurant gift certificates, sports memorabilia, and golf apparel. We also need items for goody bags to be given away at registration the day of the event. These items may contain your company logo in thanks for your contributions.
